SIP

Who are we?

Representatives elected by the workers to protect employee interests.

A voluntary workplace body monitoring health, safety, and working conditions.

Key areas of responsibility:

Health & Safety (OSH): Inspecting equipment, workstations, sanitation, and safety standards.

Labour Law: Monitoring compliance with the Labour Code, working hours, and leave entitlements.

Accident Prevention: Participating in accident investigations and hazard mitigation.

When to contact your Social Labour Inspector:

You notice unsafe working conditions, equipment faults, or direct hazards.

You have concerns regarding your workplace safety or working conditions.

You need support with employee rights compliance.
